

The Website Edit Content page

On this page the user can edit the website.

Top bar

There is a top bar with buttons above the user's website. Here's the content of the top bar:

- The current 4-color palette that is preselected
- The new color palette proposition that can be selected. When selected, the website's color palette changes immediately. Next to the new color palette is a reload icon. When clicked, it's going to suggest a new color palette.
- The "change logo" button lets the user upload their own logo to the website.
- The "nav menu" button opens a modal where the user can change the menu item titles.
- The "set contact information" button lets the user edit the contact information displayed on the website (address, phone # and email)
- The "save changes" button will save all modifications made by the user

Website content modification

The website opens as a WYSIWYG.

- The user can click on any text (headings or body) and edit the text content.
- When hovering an image, a "camera" icon appears. When clicking the icon, the user can upload a new picture to replace the previous one.
- In the website editor, the navigation menu is functional so that users can go to other pages and edit them as well.
